"PUBLICITY" WORK DENOUNCED
He Is Accused of Violating Confidence of Clients to Secure Spotlight for Himself—Part in Frank Case Brings Crisis.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Grand Rapids, Mich., June 15.—Detective William J. Burns, head of the Burns National Detective Agency, is in bad with the International Association of Chiefs of Police, which opened a five days' convention here to-day. At the opening business session to-morrow resolutions will be introduced by Chief Michael Reagan, vice-president, of Buffalo, and P. J. Casassa, of Elmira, N. Y., asking that the detective be ousted from the organization. Members of the association have not looked with favor upon the activities of Burns for some time, but the part he played in the Leo Frank case recently, when he attempted to clear the Atlanta manufacturer from a charge of murder, upon which he had been convicted and sentenced to death, has aroused police chiefs all over the United States, and the 400 delegates in attendance at the convention are united in the move to oust him.

WORK IN FRANK CASE
NOT ALL AGAINST HIM
"We have been watching Burns' work for some time," said Chief Casassa to-day, "and we have about decided that we do not care to have him considered one of us any longer. His work in the Frank case is not the only thing that the association has against him. There are several instances where he acted in a manner which we considered unbecoming for a member of our association. There is not a police official in the business who believes in trying his case in the newspapers before the case is taken into court, and, from my point of view, Burns has been violating the confidence of his clients to gain publicity for himself."

It was also intimated by some of the chiefs that when the case is taken before the convention, some of the real inner secrets of the investigation of the McNamara case will be given publicity for the first time. Ever since the wholesale arrest of the dynamiters, stories have been going around that Burns took more credit for the arrests than was due him, and some of the chiefs say they are now ready to talk. The business meeting of the National Bureau of Criminal Identification was held to-day at the Hotel Mayberry. Michael Reagan, of Buffalo, vice-president, and Major Sylvester, of Washington, secretary-treasurer, were in charge. The McNamara case was the question to be considered on Tuesday, is the question of amalgamating the police chiefs, organization with the special railroad agents and all police organizations, for the purpose of having 50,000 members. According to Major Sylvester, the chiefs will only lend their moral support to the plan and will not enter into it.

CAN SEE NO REASON FOR AMALGAMATION
"There is no reason why we should associate ourselves with the sheriff and railroad agents," said Sylvester. "Although they have besieged us with invitations to go in and lead the organization, I am sure that we will decline." Superintendent Carr, of Grand Rapids, who has been secretary of the chiefs for twenty years, announced positively to-day that he would not accept another term of office. Frank J. Casassa, of Elmira, N. Y., is the strongest bidder for his place.

Chief D. A. White, of San Francisco, is here to fight for the 1915 convention. He wants to make next year's affair centered on the Panama-Pacific Exposition. It is believed he will be turned down as he is not a member of the organization. C. E. Sebastian, of Los Angeles, will also make a bid for the convention, and it is believed his city will be chosen.

GIVES SKETCH OF LIFE, THEN SHOTS HIMSELF

Former Officer in Navy Furnishes
Papers With Autobiography Before
Attempting Suicide.

Atlanta, Ga., June 15.—Inclosed herewith are certain biographical papers which I request you to retain on file for such use as may appear."

Two hours after this note, signed by Ernest E. West, former navy and Marine Corps officer, and accompanied by an autobiography sketch, was received in local newspaper offices to-day, information was received from Chattanooga, Tenn., that West had been found in a hotel room there with a bullet wound in his forehead. A revolver lay near-by.

The wounded man recently was dismissed from the Marine Corps, where he held the rank of captain. One of his notes referred to his dismissal as follows: "The court which recently tried me at first acquitted me, but on some second reading was convinced I was guilty. It changed its decision, and I was dismissed with my new policy, finished me. I lost the income on $50,000, and in my state of health life is impossible."

Diagnosed as suffering from neurasthenia, the Marine Corps followed a separation and divorce from his wife, whom he married here, and further difficulties which arose in connection with Mrs. West's possession of their nine-year-old son.

Relatives of Captain West were notified here and in Rome, Ga., of his condition immediately after the finding of the body, and hastened to Chattanooga. Messages from there late to-day said that he had a chance of recovery, although he might be blind as a result of injury by the bullet to his forehead.

Captain West is forty-seven years old, and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1888. He served in the navy only a short time, when he resigned and engaged in teaching. When the Spanish War broke out he volunteered, and saw service as a navigator of United States vessels in Cuban and Porto Rican waters. His services caused him to be recommended for promotion.

After the war he entered the Marine Corps, and saw service in the Philippines. Captain West has spent much time here, and formerly was a member of the faculty of the Georgia School of Technology.

PRESIDENT'S POLICY ELOQUENTLY UPHELD

Dr. Albert Shaw, Noted Editor and

Course Pursued in Mexico.

ORATOR AT UNIVERSITY FINALS
This Is Alumni Day, and Representative Oscar W. Underwood Will Preside at Annual Meeting—Medals and Honors Awarded.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., June 15.—The Mexican policy of the Wilson administration was eloquently supported and commended by Dr. Albert Shaw, of New York, editor of the Review of Reviews, in an address to-night before the Washington and Jefferson Literary Societies at the University of Virginia.

"Whatever might be felt or said," Dr. Shaw declared, "regarding our military occupation of Vera Cruz, it is easy to discover a universal satisfaction in the sanitary and police reforms instituted as if by magic under the direction of our trained officials. And this would seem to give the key to any possible future mission we might have in the troubled country to the southward of us. Its teeming millions of ignorant and humble people are destined, in due time, to be their own rulers. They have long had a nominal political freedom, but it was a mockery, for by their economic bondage and their mental darkness, peace, order, wise institutions of health and education can, in due time, bring Mexico into some fulfillment of its destiny."

The subject of Dr. Shaw's address was "Statecraft: Extensive and Intensive." He contrasted two schools of American statecraft and diplomacy—that of Jefferson, which he said was characterized by a broad vision; and that of Webster, which he said was opportunistic.

Before Dr. Shaw spoke, medals were awarded the winners in the literary societies' several contests. W. W. Woods, president of the Jefferson Society, presided. The Jefferson Society's orator's medal went to J. C. Beatty, of Buckhannon, Va. The Webster medal in the same society was awarded John Hugh Murphy, of Orlando, Florida. Both the orator's and orator's medals in the Washington Society were won by Russell C. Long, of Matthews, N. C. In the intersociety debate, held several weeks ago, the Jefferson Society defeated the Washington Society, thereby winning the Harrison trophy. The Washington Society also awarded a medal for excellence in declamation. It was won by E. G. Purvis, of Ashton, Md.

To-morrow will be alumni day. Representative Oscar W. Underwood, president of the General Alumni Association, will preside at the annual meeting of the Washington and Jefferson Literary Societies, which will be held at the University of Virginia. The principal address will be delivered by J. Stewart Bryan, of Richmond. At 5 o'clock Mr. Underwood will present the Colonnade Club trophy to the class having the largest number of members present at this reunion.

The final exercises will be held on Wednesday morning, when degrees will be conferred. The Phi Beta Kappa address will be delivered by the Phi Beta Kappa dinner will be held at the Commons.
